A social narrative to help you prepare for your visit

I enter through doors that open by themselves.

I use my quiet voice,
and I move slowly.

I can play and explore while being calm.

[illegible]

There are a lot of things to do in the Kids Room.

I can play with puzzles and toys.

Other people use the library, too.
I may need to share the toys and take turns.

I can go up to the desk and talk to a librarian.
Librarians help me find what I am looking for.
They can even help me find my grown-up if I get lost.

If I am in kindergarten, first grade, or second grade, I can go in the Activity Room.

Here I can read or play reading or writing games. Sometimes the Activity Room is closed and I choose something else to do.

On special days,
I can go to storytime.

I listen to the librarian read stories, and I sing songs
with my library friends.
This is the door to the Storytime Room.

On other days, I can attend
an event in the Radmacher Room or Petty Auditorium.

If there is a performer or a lot of people,
it might be loud.

If it is too loud, I can ask to borrow headphones or take a break.

[illegible]

I can use a computer
in the Lab.

I can use the internet
and play games.
This is the door to the Lab.

● ●

When I want to use a computer, I tell them my name; then I can use a computer for one hour.

If someone else is waiting for a turn,

I may need to take a break.

There are study rooms for doing quiet activities.

I can ask the librarian at the desk
to help me sign into a study room.

[illegible]

.....

When it is warm outside, I can play in the courtyard.

I can borrow books, movies,
games, and other things
with my library card.

When I am ready to check out, I can use the self-check machine or ask a library assistant to help me. I may have to wait for my turn.

When it's time to leave the library, I can ask for a sticker or a bookmark.

I can't wait to come back and visit again!
